IELTS or International English Language Testing System is a standard examination which the students wishing to study in a college or university have to get through. The scoring system for this test is from 1-9 and most British universities require a score in the region of 5-7.5. Thus IELTS preparation should be given a serious thought if you want to study in any reputed university. The success for doing well in this test boils down to the preparation plans you have set before the examination. You should include every aspect of English that a student can be tested upon. If you are IELTS appearing student living in Manchester then there are lot of IELTS Preparation Course Manchester options which will aid you in cracking the examination. Berlitz Manchester is one such website which offers great help to the students appearing in IELTS with their well structured preparation courses.

Speaking is a core area of IELTS. IELTS speaking test is about 15 minutes in duration. It is a one to one interview with the student. The conversations held during this interview are recorded, which will be furnished later if you are not satisfied with the result. Such a speaking test is meant to judge your oral English abilities. The examiners also take into account your grammar, vocabulary, coherence and organisation. The test gets harder as it progresses. When you take IELTS Preparation Course Manchester you will be provided with the below given list of tips.

â€¢ Avoid giving your answers in â€œYesâ€• or â€œNoâ€• format. Try to answer each question fully. If yo some extra information to share, you may definitely do so.

â€¢ Do not take long pauses; keep on talking and interacting with the examiners.

â€¢ Do not be afraid to talk too much as there are no penalties for this. But talking less might not enable the examiners to judge your true English speaking potential.

â€¢ Do not jump the gun. Listen to the questions carefully and then start answering. Examiners will mould the questions in a way to bring out the complex sentence structures. You should think about the grammatical structure to be used in the sentences. Such sentences can be learned with an IELTS Preparation Course Manchester.

â€¢ You can prepare yourself well in advance as some questions are quite general such as things about your hometown, shopping, hobbies, transport and studies. You can also express opinions, such as likes and dislikes about a place you have visited very recently.

â€¢ IELTS Speaking test aims at accuracy. So, if you realise that something wrong has been said, correct it immediately.

â€¢ In Part 2 of the speaking test you should look to answer all the sub-topics provided in bullet points. Do not try to recite a memorised speech as that can be easily deciphered.

â€¢ If you do not understand something, go ahead and ask the examiner what he or she intends to mean.

â€¢ Try to provide general opinions about the subjects rather than your personal views at all times.
