Periodic top up, access to all or most of the services, freedom to use one or more of the available special tariff vouchers, querying of balance any time, no hassles in changing numbers and operators â€“ these are few of the facets associated with the mobile prepaid card. If you are a prepaid card subscriber, it is no surprise if you forget to recharge your mobile even after the balance has exhausted. You may be home and far away from the store that facilitates recharge. It can be a late night and the shutters have closed down. You may be traveling otherwise. Situations can be varied and balance of your prepaid card can get exhausted any time provided you top it up with enough minutes. And then when it comes to staying connected with people who matter the most to you, you will certainly not make compromises. This is where making cheap calls come into play. This is where online recharge offers hold substance. Imagine getting your mobile topped up with one of the best online recharge offers that come with extra talk time. To add to the advantage is the cheap calls facility. Yes, if the call rate is the cheapest in the market, you gain a competitive advantage. Whether it is from your mobile phone or from your computer, it is an internet connection that will let the online recharge happen. So, when you can avail this facility, exhaustion of balance any time anywhere is a worry-free affair.

Topping up or recharging your mobile online with minutes is facilitated by all network operators. What should be different are the offers provided. â€˜Offersâ€™ in the phrase â€˜online recharge offersâ€™ different schemes provided along with the actual minutes or talk time you enjoy. It can be extra talk time or getting free movie tickets or pizza vouchers or the like. It is no surprise if you come across a mobile prepaid card provider offering extra talk time as part of online recharge offers depending on the denomination you choose. For example, you enjoy Rs. 90 talk time for Rs. 80, Rs. 200 talk time for Rs. 170, Rs. 410 talk time for Rs. 340, and Rs. 580 talk time for Rs. 470. You do gain a competitive advantage enjoying more talk time going for a larger denomination amount.

No matter whether it is just an online top up or enjoying online recharge offers, you have to use a credit card or debit card to pay online. Alternatively, there are other online payment methods such as using an OxiCash or refill card, paying direct from a bank account using an ATM, electronic reloading, etc. Use a prepaid card that offers the best of services right from facilitating cheap calls, having on offer special tariff vouchers for dedicated local, STD, and international calls, GPRS plans, SMS plans, and a plethora of value added services. Enjoying cheap calls can bring a big difference on your pocket, letting you stay connected for hours to your satisfaction!
