Anyone can need Data Recovery at anytime as you never know when your computer will stop working. This is where we can help ensure that you have your data recovered as soon as possible without causing too much disruption to your life. All you need to do is arrange a collection with us and will collect your device from you and deliver it back to you after we have recovered your data. We also specialise in RAID Recovery and have staff that have many years of experience under them and recover data from all kinds of office servers and storage devices no matter what operating system they are built on. We have extensive knowledge of all kinds of servers and are able to recover your data within 24 hours and at the same time ensure that your business remains unaffected. Similarly we are also able to do Hard Drive Repair and ensure that you do not have to go out and buy a new hard drive where we can actually repair your current hard drive and ensure that are able fully use it to its full capacity.

Data Recovery is a lot more difficult then it appears and hence many people are not aware of how costly is for us to actually carry out this procedure. So when they call around for quotes they can often be taken by surprise as to why it is so costly. With RAID Recovery, it is even more costly as the level of expertise required to safely carrying out this type of recovery is even higher than data recovery from storage devices. The charges for this vary depending on what operating system is being used on the server as this can make a considerable difference to the cost of the recovery. Hard Drive Repair costs also vary depending on the nature of the damage caused to the hard drive. At times it can be easy to fix a hard drive and at times it can be a very time consuming exercise and be very expensive.

Many companies that offer Data Recovery services give a cheaper quote over the phone but once they have your storage device they tend to increase the cost and use this as a selling trick so it is really important that you finalise the cost before they even collect the hard drive as they charge you extortionate amounts of money to just simply return it to you. With RAID Recovery, customers have a lot more control as someone does usually come over to your premise and gives you a quote before they begin work so can decide whether the quote is reasonable or not. With Hard Drive Repair prices are usually fixed and should not vary much from what was originally quoted.
