Most Hotels in Dead Sea resorts will be able to provide information on how to find plenty of things to keep their guests entertained. There are so many amazing sights to see and things to do in the Dead Sea area that filling your time will be the least of your worries.

The Dead Sea

Every visitor to the resorts around the Dead Sea must spend some time in the water or at least on top of it. The heavily salted seawater means that the vast majority of plants and animals cannot survive in or near it, hence its name. However, it does help to make a unique swimming experience, as you cannot help but float on the surface, thanks to the sea's density.

Siesta Sea Beach

At Siesta Sea Beach you can indulge yourself in a Dead Sea mudpack. The mud from the Dead Sea is packed with minerals, which help the skin to feel clear and soft. In addition, it is ideal for anyone who wishes to pamper themselves while on holiday. There is also an amusement park, which makes it perfect for families.

Metzoke Dragot

For visitors who feel like trying something different, how about a visit to Metzoke Dragot? You can try rock climbing and rappelling courses or take a tour of the desert. To complete your day here, you could also enjoy a meal in the restaurant.

Bet Hasofer

Anyone with an interest in history will enjoy a visit to Bet Hasofer. You can see replicas of the Dead Sea Scrolls and there is also a light and sound show covering the 9,000 year history of the region.
