Customized Dog Collars Work as Resolution Reminders by Allison Edrington

New Year's Eve and Day have many traditions that most honorably uphold every year: drinking champagne to celebrate the coming of the new year, kissing someone at midnight and the dreaded new year's resolutions. Though resolutions can be frustrating and difficult to maintain, customized dog collars can help (oddly enough).

The end of the year is a natural time to reflect on what you have done and what you would like to do in the next 12 months, so those who resolve to do better sometimes overestimate their plans, such as someone pledging to lose 100 pounds in a year. While it may be possible, losing 100 pounds in a year takes a significant amount of dedication. And sometimes the hardest part is remembering all the goals you set for yourself.

This is where custom dog collars come in. Never forget your most important goal as the seasons pass. Most personalized dog collars spell out the canine's name, but you can also spell out a message to yourself. Instead of writing "Fifi" across the collar, you can customize it to read "Exercise", "Yoga", or "College Fund". If you have a resolution that is related to your dog, you can also refer with "No Scraps" or "Walk Me!" (depending on what the resolution is).

Personalized rhinestone dog collars are perfect for this, as the letters are eye-catching so you will look at it more often. Dogs typically don't mind these collars, as they feel exactly the same to the dog and he can't see it while wearing it.
