Hen Dos: Some Tips to Make Your Party Successful by Julia Roger

Article published on May 6th 2012 | Recreation

It is always difficult to organize hen do party and plan the full set of events for the party. There are many things to be considered while planning the party. The first and far most important factor is to plan your budget and events. Never look to please everyone in the party and make sure to stick your budget. Start the planning by choosing dates for hen do and then mail it to all the guests. Keep in mind that not everyone will be able to make it to the party, so it is best to choose popular dates. Try to give them more time for planning and it is best to mail the dates as soon as possible.

The location for your hen do party is important and it is best to choose easily accessible locations. Locations having connectivity through direct jet flights are best for your party. Booking your tickets early will allow you to avail discounts and cheap rates for your ticket. The next part is to plan activities for your hen dos party. The activities should include all type of activities ranging from driving, water based activities, relaxing like spa, and action based activities. You can ask the guests to vote for their favorite activities, it will ensure that the entire guests are going to enjoy the party. You can even tell them the entire hen party is a surprise.

In the end, make sure to ask everyone for a deposit so that you can find out who is serious and who is not. It is best to ask for at least 30% deposit in advance and it will give you an idea of who is going and who is not. These tips will ensure a successful hen do party.
