Beating Competition on a Dating Site. by Dating Chinese Women

Article published on April 16th 2012 | Relationship

Online dating with Chinese women is fast emerging as a perfect solution for men who find approaching strange women in bars distasteful. Regardless of your age, ethnicity, or affiliation, online dating provides you ample opportunities to not only find the likeminded ladies but also have loads of fun on the way. However, many find Chinese dating to be quite competitive where getting response from women of your choice is not as easy as it first seems. Beautiful ladies are often inundated with emails and messages and they are sometime so overwhelmed that they just don't read those mails at all.

However, it certainly does not mean that dating beautiful Chinese women online is impossible. Though you must find ways stand head above the shoulder over others and differentiating yourself from everyone else. The following three suggestions can help you beat competition:

Most men get butterflies in stomach as soon as they set their eyes on a beautiful woman and rather than impressing ladies with their first email, they end up doing exactly the opposite. Phrases such as, "Reply if you're interested", "Hope to hear from you soon" are big turn offs. Switch to dominant language such as "I'll talk to you soon." Just by replacing weak words like "if" and "hope" with strong confident words, you come across as alpha male.

Act confidently, decisively, and keep a strict control of your thoughts and emotions. Most beautiful women are so used to guys bending over backwards for them that when it does not happen they sit up and take notice. Show them that you are not one of the crowd but a leader.

Just to save time and effort, many men just write a generic message then send it to 40 girls. But, women cannot be fooled and they press the delete button as soon as they one such message. If you want to be noticed and your mail replied, then find something unique the profile of the girl to comment on. While getting a reply to your first mail does not guarantee you anything, it at least gets you started.
