My Heels - ewritingpal Reviews by Tom Hart

Article published on January 16th 2012 | Relationship

For those who are not familiar with the heels of a kitten, they are essentially a design, which lies between high heels and flats. In order to properly recognize a couple of kitten heels of other high-heeled shoes, they are usually much shorter than normal heels. In addition, after the design is known to be much more subtle and often arise from the inner edge of the shoe giving it a slight curve. If personalized, they are said to be reminiscent of Audrey Hepburn, the most by a combination of sexy and sweet qualities of the ladies, as well as shoes.

In fact, these heels were originally popularized by Audrey Hepburn herself. It started when the kitten heels were first developed in the 1950s, Roger Vivier, the French shoe designer, Christian Dior included in at that time. Although at the time, these heels were banned from some of the buildings for their tendency to pit floor, they were included in the Diors New Looks in addition to the selection of women's clothing designs are included.

At that time, high heels were considered highly inappropriate for young girls. Thus, when they first came out, they immediately became a fashion among teenagers. In addition, Audrey Hepburn reached the peak of his career as an actress at the same time.

Thus, due to the fact that she obviously wore heels kitten in the number of its scenes, such as Funny Face (1957), heels quickly became popular even in the more mature crowd. Despite this, the kitten heel shoes also produce a look that says you are sociable, but definitely not easy. Among the many great qualities heeled kitten, one of the most important is that he is some kind of compromise between high heels and flats.

This means that it will have a much higher level of sexual attractiveness than apartments, but also will be significantly lower than that of most high heels, making them less uncomfortable when wearing for long periods of time. Another characteristic feature of these shoes so that it gives a much more reserved and shy glance. It was, in fact, it is typical for shoes that caused the heels of return, as Mrs.

Obama, the current First Lady of the United States began to make most of their performances are exquisite models heels kitten. Thus, these shoes can prevent it from overwhelming presence of their husbands, but also allow it to maintain its chic and feminine style. Thus, it was said that among its other strengths of a remarkable memory of Mrs.

Obama would choose her signature. In addition, the kitten heels today become one of the most common styles are included in various collections of famous designers fashion shoes such as Manolo Blahnik and Christian Louboutin. Needless to say, this is even more increased the popularity of shoes in today's market.

Nevertheless, it was ewritingpal also discovered that instead of the classical winklepicker toe shoes, women today tend to go for a wedge-heeled versions of the kitten. .

Article Source:
http://www.articleside.com/relationship-articles/my-heels-ewritingpal-reviews.htm - Article Side

Tom Hart - About Author:

a ewritingpal - A series of kitten heels, which are sorted by color, or visit us on the best Heels in the UK today.

Article Keywords:
ewritingpal

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!