When you are looking for shoes made from textile, then your destination should be the Converse shoes. The Converse shoes today come in various materials like denim, hemp, printed textiles, rubber, vinyl, suede and leather. Did you know that the late basket ball player Chuck Taylor made Converse shoes popular by adopting them as his preferred shoe and lending them his name? So, when you buy these shoes, you know you are buying a piece of history behind the great star as these shoes got their name and fame as "Chuck all stars". Although made popular by the sports legend, these shoes made their way into the fashion arena, as they were worn by the popular rock bands such as Ramones and more lately by Kurt Cobaine of the Nirvana band, and U2 guitarist.

If you are a serious basket ball player then you will know that All Star shoes are synonym to basket ball. The All Star shoe was first created in 1917 and after years of changes and adding new colors, today the Converse All Star shoes come with a classic heritage which transcends into the trendy. With a range of hip colors and double eyelets, Converse shoes try to lace up with two different colored laces! Made from classic canvas upper, the shoe comes with a smooth rubber toe cap and a flexible double tongue and flexible double heel. Be the first to wear them and be spotted in these cool, hip and classic converse basket ball shoes!

Look at the reinterpreted lace less version of the Converse shoes by John Varvatos. Keeping up with the demands of the customers, Converse in collaboration with John Varvatos, came up with the sprint grip slip on shoe that is a slip on stylish sneaker with canvas and leather upper, a fabric lining, and a rubber out sole for durability. Wear them with jeans or any casual outfit. These are great for quick changes, because the slip ones save on time and easy to pull off and on. They are the best choice for you when you are travelling long distances!

As mentioned earlier, Converse canvas shoes have crept from sports to fashion so smoothly that it is difficult to trace back how exactly it happened. Today the shoe has evolved through the use of stylized shoe laces, (including mismatched or printed shoe laces), writing or drawings on the shoe from blacks and whites to multi colored or printed, which makes it a global favorite. The gold and black shoe is a combination of culture and creativity with the graphics drawn by Converse artists and comes with a red shoe tongue tag and red eyelets and foot bed. That's not all - a portion of the money that it is sold for goes to the Global fund to fight AIDS and tuberculosis. So gift this to your young teenage son and you are sure to see him go to school on time everyday!

If you are a quick and an efficient runner then you would want something more from your shoe than just light weight. This next shoe is light weight without compromising on the cushioning effect of the foot bed. The Converse work high performance composite ESD Hi top athletic shoe nicely fits in the requirements for a fast paced athlete! The shoe comes with a composite toe and Drilex, a moisture absorbing lining and a removable polyurethane cushion insert insole. The soft EVA midsole and the tough arch stabilizer help encourage foot motion which is extremely helpful for runners. The durable full grain leather upper and mesh help the foot to breathe, keeping it cool. The high performance shoe also comes with a heel air bag, shock eliminator heat plug and 100 percent non metallic construction. This extremely light and flexible shoe is not only great for high performance runners but can also be worn to do high performance work outs. The chemical, oil slip resistant rubber out sole is another special feature of the shoe which comes in all white.

Converse water proof shoes are a sure way to beat the wet weather and forge ahead. The converse water proof puncture resistant shoe is built with water proof full grain leather upper-a combination of Tailex. Converse Star guard water proof membrane can keep your feet dry, with
