So your friend/colleague is having a baby shower or celebrating their toddler's birthday. Are you stumped by what would be a perfect gift for the occasion? We present the 5 minute guide to buying Baby Gifts for newborns. Just follow these simple tips and you will never go wrong.

Know the baby's gender before you buy something. This will ensure that you can pick the appropriate color, style and design for the gift you plan to give. Pick a baby gift that's age-appropriate. The baby's age is very crucial when you are looking to buy a gift. Gift items especially toys and clothing are age-sensitive. A specific toy that is meant for kids above 18 months old and above is obviously inappropriate for one-year old toddler. Manufacturers include this detail very prominently on all Baby Products for a reason, so it's best to look carefully for such signs before you buy.

While buying baby toys and baby clothes you should remember that a toddler is the recipient so don't bother about the price tag. Babies aren't bothered by whether the gifts are worth a lot of money. The best thing to do is to choose items that are useful for both the baby and the mother.

Ensure that any gift that you buy is made from proper materials that safe for babies. Double check to ensure that there are no harmful substances or chemicals in the toys or other baby items that you intend to buy. In terms of baby clothes 100 percent cotton clothes are the safest bet as they are comfortable and will ensure that the little one does not get a rash.

While thinking of gift ideas for toddlers, think about the parents' interests and preferences. Think about what they would want or need and this will help you zero in an appropriate gift.

Choose a gift that represents you. Giving a gift that represents your personality always remind the parents and the child of you. Also applying a theme to the entire gifting process from start to finish is a good idea. The wrapping, card, and the box are representative of the gift. If you are buying a baby feeding seat, then include a bib, a plate and spoon, some baby food which shows that you have applied thought to the process of gifting. Use your creativity to show your regard for the baby and its family. Don't forget the small details. If the gift needs batteries, include some with it. Again, paying close attention to detail will make a large statement.

A baby is a responsibility and in today's fast paced life, spending time to buy an appropriate gift might not always be possible. In such a situation you could buy coupons or discount cards from an online baby products store and gift it to the baby's parents. This will enable to purchase whatever they think is appropriate for the baby. Many sites offer such coupons in various denominations and the ease of online shopping will ensure that the products ordered are delivered to the doorstep.
