If you are looking for a budget desktop for home usage and not swayed by the touch functionality then HP Omni 120-1024 could be a right pick. It boasts to include 1.65GHz AMD Dual-Core 450E, 2GB, 1,333MHz DDR3 SDRAM, 500GB, 7,200 rpm, dual-layer DVD burner, and more in terms of power and Gigabit Ethernet, 802.11 b/g/n wireless to support networking. Bundled with genuine Windows 7 Home Premium and Microsoft Office Starter and priced at $ 429 it seems a better option than the similar combination portrayed by Lenovo C315 and HP Pavilion All-In-One MS225 that are available at $699 and $ 599 respectively.

The product enjoys a full-fledged HP Technical Help. Although HP products are engineered with acute care but to boost your confidence the series is backed by one-year limited warranty on hardware and software both. For hardware repair and replacement, you can get on-site support service as well. For any failure within that period, you are advised to locate and contact your nearest HP Service Center via the World Wide Web without altering the hardware configuration. HP portal or the HP authorized service provider may need information such as product serial number, model name, and product model number, flashed error messages, add-on options, and information about operating system and third-party hardware or software.

However, for software related issues you are free to call on 24 x 7 helpline number or get access to experts via chat or email. HP Consumer Support Forum also presents a platform where you can share problems and solutions both. From fundamental setup and installation to advance troubleshooting, nothing remains untouched from experts at HP Support. Troubleshooting part embraces all software including Windows, Microsoft Office, Internet Explorer and other non-Microsoft products. HP Support expands its domain with help of authorized tech support partners. Select for the support categories as: computer setup and installation, HP printer setup and installation, Windows 7 Drivers for HP Printers, Networking & Internet Support and more. No matter whether you are in or out of warranty, you can experience the best computer support while sitting at the comfort of your home or office.

HP help and support portals portray a range of solutions. If the discipline of computer troubleshooting interests you then exploit this section. Easy search wizard helps you to locate the most reliable solution and corresponding video tutorials are to aptly guide you, so that you are able to fix related issues in a quick and easy manner. Support and Driver section is to provide your HP product with right and updated software, and the matter of joy, its available freely for all.

You can subscribe with HP portal to get update regarding drivers and alerts on security through mails or RSS. To fight against viruses, spyware and worm, you can download specific removal tools, which are sometime free. But be particular while selecting the best one. Read the compatibility and procedures in advance to get effectual result. Donâ€™t mind getting experts help over phone or the Internet to fix encountered issues.
