Magento Customization Services: Support System for E-Commerce

by Terry Littrell

Article published on May 29th 2012 | Software

Officially launched in 2008, Magento is worldâ€™s fastest growing e-commerce platform, established to assign online merchants a complete control and flexibility over their online stores. With series of Magento Extensions blended in the core Magento software in the form of files are used by Magento Developers, to extend the functionality of the store.

Magento Developers, by the help of extensions and modules, offer rich Magento Customization Services, promising an amazing and awesome revolution in e-commerce platform. With a blend of complete flexibility and control over the look and content along with functionality of an Online Store. Magento Development injects functionality anywhere, whether in a static block, or dealing with payment module or handling integrated multiple systems that includes third party in it.

As a prerequisite for e-commerce development process, Magento Extension Customization Services accommodates loads of features in its kitty. With the expertise of Magento Developers, it obliges with exact features and functionalities required by the clientele.

Magento Developers with the help of Magento Customization Services can provide services for Magento web development and maintenance, store development, easy web page updates, SEO friendly URLâ€™s, multiple images per product, multi-lingual/ multiâ€“currency facility, Google Analytical Integration and many more to count.

Operating multiple stores from single admin panel, through Magento Customization Services provides online merchants complete control on their online stores. By supporting multiple currencies and languages, Magento helps online store owners target the global customers. With facility of shipping to multiple addresses in one order and availability of flexible coupons with ability to restrict to stores, customersâ€™ groupsâ€™ time period, etc is an added advantage of services provided by Magento.

In persuasion to meet their complex needs, different business establishment are provided with comprehensive enterprise solutions by the means of Magento Development. It includes best in class marketing and merchandising tools which are incredible, and open for customization with the help of Magento Developers, which are beneficial besides serving the purpose of the clients as well as of store owner.

With passion, drive, commitment, and dedication of Magento Developers, with over 4600+ Magento Extensions available. Magento an open source platform counts with over 50,000 developers in its forum contributing effortlessly in Magento Development. Magento Enterprise Edition launched in later half of 2009 has roped in 3M, Skype, Nespresso, Nokia, Liberty Media, The North Face and Samsung in its clients list. Magneto engined stores have generated over $25 billion revenue with the help of over 25,000 web stores.

Advanced Report Extension is an imperative and indispensable part of every online store owner as its helps to have data of sales information, hence paving means to generate opportunities towards maximizing productivity and profitability with the help of Magento Development.

Article Source:

http://www.articleside.com/software-articles/magento-customization-services-support-system-for-e-commerce.htm - Article Side

Terry Littrell - About Author:
Author of this article is a a Magento Developer, has considerable contribution in a Magento Development. He is competent enough to use Magento Customization Services according to the situation and demand.

Article Keywords:
Magento Customization Services, Magento Developer, Magento Development, Magento Extensions

You can find more free articles on Article Side. Sign up today and share your knowledge to the community! It is completely FREE!