Go for the Perfect Golf Swing by Travis Belfon

Article published on January 23rd 2012 | Sports

One of the best golf swing tips ever is that your body and mind both need to be in harmony and working at their very best in order to properly drive or putt the ball. While the perfect golf swing may never be attainable by mere mortals, you naturally want to give it your best every time. This is the Zen like nature of golf practice that makes this into more than just a sport. Golf is a way of life. For this reason, you want to be in the company of truly elite people in your sport of choice.

Because your quest for the perfect golf swing is vitally important to you, you need to use the best nutrition to stay at the top of your game. While having great players around you to give you golf swing tips is an important part of going from the level of "just okay" to "you'll impress almost anyone," just being among some of the best players isn't enough to push you to your highest personal level. While the mental game is definitely important, the physical game should never be forsaken if you want to reach the very top tier. This is why we invented GolferAID.

The perfect golf swing is great, but you won't achieve it without a serious load of protein, vitamins, and minerals in your system.
