Oh Boy!!! It is too difficult to select the best among the betters, i personally feel so confused when i go to a shop to buy something for me. Here, i'll be providing brief reviews for the best ones and you have to select the best OS suitable for you, that perfectly fits and suits to your personality and fulfills all your requirements.

Some years later only three names were known to people to select from, those were Symbian from Nokia, BlackBerry OS and Windows phone, But During these two years the smartphone market has got a revolutionary jump, the names Android and iOS has covered the most of the market and other OSes like

BlackBerry and Windows Phone are getting Updated to compete them, while Symbian is getting off the market. So the main Fight is between Android, iOS, Windows Phone and BlackBerry. I would like to start With the most popular one that is Google's Android Operating System,Android Google's this operating system has done the thing that no other OS can. The past two year were just terrific for this OS and why shouldn't?, They came with the ability and proved it with the bang. The main reasons for its popularity was its simplicity, its fluid interface, Application support, compatibility with the most famous and advanced manufacturers. The Android has got a label of the most funky OS among the Mobile Operating systems. The Popularity of Android is shown to all by its recent market stats, according to reports Android has grabbed 51.8% of the market share around the globe, that means in a bunch of 10 peoples with smartphones, you will find more than 5 people having an Android device. And One more reason is its compatibility with low cost devices, you may find an Android phone in just 4,000 INR.
