The centuries old rich history of the country is manifested in its forts and palaces, museums, mausoleums, temples, Stupas and other interesting structures like the baolis or stepwells at various places like Abhaneri near Jaipur in Rajasthan, Adlaj ki Vava near Ahmedabad in Gujarat etc ; and some crazy monuments like the Hawa Mahal (Place of Winds) in Jaipur; Bara Imambara of Lucknow which is a labyrinth of narrow corridors; Jantar Mantar, an astronomical observatory built at 5 places in India viz. Jaipur (it is the largest one), Delhi, Ujjain, Mathura and Varanasi. The former two are better known and better preserved ones.

The forts of Amber in Jaipur, Junagarh in Bikaner, Mehrangarh in Jodhpur, Chittorgarh, Kumbhalgarh, Jaisalamer that also offers the experience of desert safari have made Rajasthan very popular among the tourists from all over the world. Needless to mention, the monument that tops all others not only in India but in the entire world is the Taj Mahal at Agra. If you havenâ€™t seen Taj Mahal, you havenâ€™t seen India. The statement may seem clichÃ©d but nothing describes the magnificence of Taj Mahal better than this.
