Article published on December 14th 2011 | Travel

Mumbai, an incredible city that is the melting pot of cultures and nationalities charms visitors with its unique cosmopolitan appeal and multi-cultural character that is rarely seen in any other city. Flights to Mumbai are in high demand all throughout the year but the demand spikes up during the October to March season that is considered as the best time to visit the city.

While booking your flights to Mumbai, you should keep in mind that the total expenses of your trip will depend to a lot of extent on the type of air carrier you choose and the class of travel selected. The fare difference between economy, premium economy and business class seats is high and therefore you should select your flights carefully. Another factor on which the cost of your trip depends is the type of accommodation you choose. Staying in a star class hotel will inflate your travel expenses while staying in a guest house, lodge or home stay will keep your expenses in control.

Those who come to Mumbai either come to explore the city or to explore their destiny. The city caters to both category of visitors and the ones who come for fun and adventure often return thrilled and enchanted as the city offers plenty of entertainment options. Those who come to Mumbai to explore the sightseeing options the city has to offer like the Film City, Fashion Street, Flora Fountain, Crawford Market, Gateway of India, Hanging Gardens, Nehru Planetarium, National Gallery of Modern Art.

The city abounds in religious places that cater to people of all religious faiths and some of the important religious places include Haji Ali,ISKCON Temple, Mahalaxmi Temple, Mount Mary Church, Mumba Devi Temple, Siddhi Vinayak Temple, St Michael's Church, St. Thomas Cathedral and Walkeshwar Temple.

Mumbai is also famous for its beaches like Juhu, Madh Island, Marine Drive, Versova, Aksa that offer visitors just the right amount of peace and tranquility that visitors can expect on an afternoon visit.

There are certain places in close proximity to Mumbai that are also very popular amongst tourists and a lot of travel agents offer excursion tours to places like Mahabaleshwar, Panchgani, Khandala, Elephanta & Kanheri Caves.

If you are going to Mumbai with your family, then your kids will definitely love a trip to places like Essel World, Water Kingdom, Fantasy Land Nishiland, Shangrila and Suraj Water Park that offer plenty of opportunities for fun and entertainment.
