When people want to travel within a country by a domestic flight, the price of ticket doesn't matter more. But when it comes to the topic of international flight travel, comfort and cost of travel is the ultimate factor of consideration. For international travel, business class flights will be chosen rather than the economy ones. With this, the traveler can enjoy great luxury and all amenities in the flight. Though most individuals prefer the business class flight for its luxury, the plan will be dropped mainly because of the high air ticket fare which is unaffordable for most of the people. Getting the cheap business class tickets is quite a tricky task. Care should be taken for ensuring the proper time of booking, date of travel, booking website, etc. Here are few tips which would work out for all those who are new to the research for finding the cheap business class.

- * Buying the business class flight tickets during the peak season will be very expensive and hence, avoiding travel during such times is always advisable. Under such cases, the prices will keep increasing as the date of reservation gets drops off.
- * In case of travel to abroad countries, booking the tickets well before the date of travel will be very helpful in saving a lot of money. Prices will be lesser when ticket is booked three to four months well in advance to the travel date.
- * If the seats in the airlines are not fully filled, the ticket price would go down even in the last minute. These details could be known through the newsletters that are offered by the airlines in a weekly basis.
- * There are several websites which are working on the price of air tickets. They will predict the cost of ticket and intimate about the right time to purchase. These websites could be used for knowing about the best time to buy the travel ticket.
- * There can be situations at which the price of ticket will be decreased all of a sudden. If a customer has purchased a ticket at higher price and if the price of the same ticket gets decreased later, the refund amount could be demanded from the airlines.
- * "Air pass" is a very interesting aspect of flight travel. This is provided for promoting the tourism and to encourage the people to travel for a very long distance.
- * When a person travels a lot among various countries and regions, he or she can get the Air pass. With this, lots of money could be saved. For instance: If you come to know that you will be travelling extensively within Australia, then an Aussie Air pass could be purchased for reducing the overall cost.

* Online travel portals will be having collaboration with the airlines and they can provide us with online ticket booking. This facilitates the customers in grabbing the ticket at a cheaper rate.

Above all, a proper plan and scheduling of the travel will work out in the best way and enables the traveler to save a considerable amount of his/her hard earned money.
