Seville is a city in Spain that has great reputation among the visitors from various parts of Europe. Seville is famous for many things. Some of these include the Flamenco dance, statue of Virgin, music, nightlife and its famous festivals. The city remains exciting most of the year for the same reasons as it has a lively environment overall.

One of the best festivals of Seville is Semana Santa. This festival has the celebrations for the holy week in the city. This festival lasts between Palm and Easter Sundays. The whole city remains decorated during that week and the environment has a holy feeling in it. There are large processions and huge crowds gathered from time to time in this festival. Things are done with proper schedule of events and the leaflets of same are distributed.

Another famous festival in Seville is Feria de Abril. This festival is held in the middle or end of month of April. This festival sometimes lasts till the first week of May. It is counted among the most colorful festivals in the region. It is celebrated in the west of Guadalquivir in the area of Los Remedios. This festival lasts for six nights and seven days. People participating in this festival love to dance, eat, dress up and perform their favorite activities.

There is a special flamenco festival celebrated in this city. It is the biggest one in the country of its kind and itâ€™s named as Bienal de Flamenco. This festival is celebrated in the month of September every year. It is a joyful kind of festival as it contains music and dance most of the time. It is probably the best festival for artistic kind of people. This way they get a chance to enjoy their favorite dance and music at its peak during the festival.

A famous festival which is also entertaining is Corpus Christi. It is celebrated in the month of June. It is a one day festival and it is held in different dates in the month of June every year. This festival starts with a procession in the morning. It is a religious event and hence it contains holy pictures from the cathedral. The whole city is decorated with flowers during this festival. There is a traditional dance performed by boys in this festival. These boys are dressed in wonderful clothes having red and golden colors which increase the beauty of festival.
